

Artist statement:

Chinese culture highly values gathering and connections in the family. We have many festivals among these gatherings, such as the Mid-Autumn Festival and the Spring Festival. In this illustration, I show a moment where everyone tries their best to prepare a dinner for a celebration. One person even breaks a plate by accident, but everything still keeps going and moving forward. As an Asian community, I hope we can hold hands together, as a family, to overcome all the difficulties.
