

Artist statement:

This is a poster about the Asian community wearing masks to protect each other from the virus. Instead, people see this as a way of silencing us even though the Asian community is not prone to protesting. We accept and hold everything inside but that t won't make us stay silent and should not make us a target.