

Artist Statement:

This is a piece called Same but Diverse. It's a drawing of repetition of bottles in different angles, sizes, colors, and variations. It's also an experimental multimedia piece with pastels and plastic sheet on a 24 x 36 inch black card board.

The bottles on the piece represent different groups of people, no matter races, genders, or status, we are all the same in the same world. There are also some cut outs on some of the bottles, which means that we are not all perfect, but the scars or lack of something could be a kind of beauty that makes us unique and become a beautiful component for each of us.
