

Project statement:

This artwork is about Asian culture and community, and it's a representation of Asian dreams. The character in the middle is an ancient Chinese girl. Many colorful balls hang from the ceiling, representing different people's dreams for the future. They also show that the world should be colorful and should have people with different skin colors. This artwork is a wish for Asian discrimination to disappear.